
Values are unweighted means across validation folds. Event-held-out performance varies substantially between events.